

STAINED GLASS WISDOM BY JONATHAN LANDON

(Inspiration from my Love)

What is the greatness that will be a guarantee?
Since we may always turn and flee,
Making no difference in past or present,
Swallowing us in a pit of Uncertainty.
The worry and struggle of life
Wears thin, wasted time in hours to
Be,
While the black and white blur, and the picture turns
Bleak.
But as I walk along, words of stained glass speak to Me,
Enlighten the key I
Seek:
"If every color was the same, there would be a need for only one.
But with variety,
An elaborate picture will appear."
